Cordell Connect

Cordell Connect is an online database of researched building and construction project information for the Australian and New Zealand markets – tailored just for you!

Using Cordell Connect you are able to pinpoint the projects that are right for your business. Projects can be tracked by specific search criteria such as project name, category, stage, location, value, floor size and various date options. Projects are researched and entered into our database from early planning through to construction stage.

What you get with Cordell Connect

Customer Relationship Manager. Your Account Manager will help you identify your business goals and then develop a system to easily adapt your new construction report to fit with your current business practices.

Live Data. New and updated information is uploaded into Cordell Connect four times every weekday, so you know you'll always have the latest up to the minute information.

Customer Support and Training. We have a friendly and knowledgeable Customer Support and Training Department.

Tailored Solutions. Cordell Connect is one of our many 'tailored' solutions, meaning that we tailor the project leads you receive to meet your own specific needs.

At any given time, Cordell Connect holds details of well in excess of over 150,000 construction related projects.

We help you access the information that is right for your business by filtering into straight forward categories so that every project you see has relevance to you - whether it is by territory, type of construction, project stage, value or some other criteria.

Cordell Connect is a highly flexible, market intelligence and sales lead generation tool, which can be used in almost every conceivable type of business environment, large or small.
